

PLAN UNION OF JAP SEAMEN TO GUARD RIGHTS

Tokyo, Japan, Nov. 17.—Formation of a union of Japanese seamen is planned, covering the whole of the country, and having as its object the protection of the interests of the seamen. The plan may be regarded as a counter move against the Japan ship-owners' union, which was established about two months ago, including all the leading Japanese shipping companies among its members.

To date about 3000 seamen are out of work, while unemployed seamen in Yokohama number about 1000. As the shipping depression continues with a steady increase in the number of laid-up ships, it is feared that marine unemployment will assume a more serious aspect. In this circumstance the seamen have come to realize the greater need of combining themselves to protect their own interests. At present 48 different seamen organizations exist in various parts of the country, the largest of them being the shipping section of the Yuzenkaikai, the members of which number 15,000. It is now urged that all the organizations should combine to increase the power of the seamen in dealing with their employers.

JAPS ACCUSE
KOREANS OF OUTRAGES

Seoul, Korea, Nov. 17.—Gen. Oba, commander of the Japanese army in Korea, has issued a declaration to the Korean press in which he accuses the Koreans of outrages against Japanese subjects in the Korean peninsula. The declaration maintains that lawless elements among the Korean people have joined with Manchurian mounted bandits and insurgents and have attacked the Japanese consulates at Hunchun and destroyed the buildings. Furthermore, they made a wanton assault on and murdered Japanese subjects residing in Hunchun, it alleged. The declaration continues:

"They threatened to invade the imperial Japanese territory with arms. The imperial Japanese government has been compelled to take measures of self defense and has dispatched troops for the protection of the Japanese subjects in the region. The Japanese government will take most appropriate measures not to prejudice China's prestige which shall be strictly respected, and not to cause damage to the interests and welfare of the law abiding Chinese population in the region."

Poultry Flock Does Best
When Comfortably Housed

COMFORTABLY housed hens have better health, are more vigorous, and lay more eggs than those which must live in uncomfortable quarters, say poultry specialists at the United States department of agriculture.

Good interior arrangement for poultry house, showing roosts and dropping boards, with nests beneath, and a wire coop at end for confining broody hens. Note ventilators in back of house, and the abundance of sunlight, which assures a bright house and healthy fowls.

birds up to 25. The following lumber is required for its construction:

Description of Material. Feet

Poultry House Requirements.
Poultry houses or other buildings where fowls are kept should be dry, well ventilated, free from drafts, with plenty of sunshine and room enough to allow the birds to move about with freedom and comfort. These are necessary features, in fact much more important than the kind or style of building used, if the fowls are to be kept healthy, vigorous, and productive.

If a new house is to be built, it should be located, if possible, on high or sloping ground and always on dry and well drained soil. Wet or damp ground makes a damp house, and a damp house not only means a cold one but invites sickness and diseases. Never build a house in a hollow, as water and cold air settle in low places and should be avoided. Have the house face the south, as it gives more sunlight for a longer part of the day, especially in winter when sunlight is necessary for the comfort of the birds. It also makes the house warmer, drier, and more cheerful, and adds to the productivity of the flock.

Should Be Substantial.
The poultry house should be convenient, substantial, and inexpensive. Its size or dimensions depend largely upon where you live and the number of fowls you wish to keep. On a farm or where the birds can be out of doors nearly every day in the year, about two and a half square feet of floor space per bird in flocks of 25 is enough, but in a village or city or in a climate where there is a good deal of snow, making it necessary to confine the birds closely, four or five square feet is better.

Orchestra Players Now In Discord
Boston, Mass., Nov. 17.—Rudolph Kugel, violinist, Gustav F. Helm, trumpeter, and Fortunato Bonifilio, trombone player, have each brought suits in the superior court for Suffolk county for $10,000 against the Boston Symphony orchestra for alleged breach of contract. They were hired for the seasons of 1919-1920 to 1921-1922, inclusive, but were discharged on Nov. 10. Last week and Bonifilio were each paid $5 a week and Helm received $42.50 a week.

COSTLY BAKED APPLES.
Boston, Mass., Nov. 17.—Baked apples at 25 cents. That's what downtown restaurants and quick lunch resorts are charging for them.

Coldest hand picked Baldwin apples are selling at retail at $1.50 a bushel and from 10c to 15c apples in a bushel. Prices count for apples that cost the cafe takers from a cent and a quarter to a cent and a half apiece, plus labor.

Decline In Prices Will Not Affect Diamonds
Chicago, Ill., Nov. 17.—No reduction in the price of diamonds is in prospect. This is the official word called to this country by L. Breitmeyer, president of the American Diamond Syndicate. Mr. Breitmeyer said the diamond syndicate's policy has always been to maintain prices, and it has no intention of dropping from its rule.

The London Diamond syndicate is the world's and of the De Beers Consolidated Mines, Ltd., which controls practically all the mines of South Africa, the source of its members of the world's diamonds. Mr. Breitmeyer's announcement dispels the idea that diamonds will be cheaper during the Christmas holiday trade.

While the London Diamond syndicate deals only in rough diamonds, it is a monopoly that determines the prices of cut and polished gems in the markets of the world. There is no appeal from its decision. Jewelers must buy at its price or go without diamonds. It has steadily advanced the price of diamonds since 1918. If business depression or money scarcity reduces the demand for the gems the syndicate, instead of readjusting its prices, continues to output of the mines. Diamond dealers say its attitude at present is sound because of so increased cost of mining and a decreased output at the mines. Several of the most famous South African mines are believed to be approaching exhaustion.

Webster Never Signed Roll Of U. S. Court
Washington, D. C., Nov. 17.—Daniel Webster, one of the most active lawyers before the bar of the United States supreme court, never signed the membership roll of the court.

The absence of Webster's name from the roll of American attorneys, lawyers was commented on today by Frederick W. Lehmann, former solicitor general of the United States.

"Maybe the court officials of that day were afraid to tell Webster it was a requirement of the court to sign the roll," suggested a court clerk.

"I expect," commented Lehmann, "that the court listening to Webster decided he was entitled to practice before it, whether or not he had signed the roll."

Associate Justice John M. Clarke, a member of the supreme court, is now practicing before the supreme court as a lawyer, and his name is not on the roll as having been admitted to the bar of the court. The same is true of former associate justice David Davis, who after the death of Chief Justice Roger Taney, left the supreme court to serve as United States senator from Illinois. But an associate justice he appeared several times before the supreme court.

This led Mr. Carpenter, one of the most brilliant lawyers of his day, to remark to senator Davis: "It is a wonder you would not qualify yourself to practice before the supreme court by being admitted to the bar of the court."

Senator Henry Calver Lodge is one of the few prominent men not a lawyer to deliver a speech before the United States supreme court in session.

Women of Middle Age

Owing to modern methods of living not one woman in a thousand approaches this perfectly natural change in her life without experiencing a train of very annoying and sometimes painful symptoms. Those dreadful hot flashes, smothering spells, fainting spells, nervous troubles and irregularities are symptoms that should have prompt attention. These two letters prove what a successful remedy Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is for women at this time of life.

These Two Women Helped During Change of Life.

Taunton, Mass.—"I could not eat or sleep for six months, had fainting spells and could not walk without help for three months, caused by female trouble. My cousin, who was a doctor, told me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it helped me greatly. Then during the Change of Life I used the same remedy. I am seventy years old now and am able to do my own housework and walk one mile to church every Sunday morning and evening. I am recommending the Vegetable Compound to my friends having the same troubles as I had. Your remedy is the best on earth. I cannot find words to express my gratitude for it."—Mrs. SCARLETT STAPLES, 117 B School St., Taunton, Mass.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I want to let you know what good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done me. I had organic troubles and am going through the Change of Life. I was taken with a pain in my side and a bad headache. I could not lie down, could not eat or sleep. I suffered something terrible and the doctor's medicine did me no good at all—my pains got worse instead of better. I began taking the Vegetable Compound and felt a change from the first. Now I feel fine and advise any one going through the Change of Life to try it, for it cured me after I had given up all hopes of getting better. I will tell any one who writes to me the good it has done me."—Mrs. MARGARET DANA, 745 N. 20th St., Philadelphia, Pa.

ABOUT EATING

Alabama Lady Says We impose on Nature by Overloading, But Theodore's Black-Draught Will Make You Feel Better.

"Taint Back, Ah.—Recommending Theodore's Black-Draught to her friends and neighbors, Mrs. Mary Manning, of this place, says: 'I never have and never expect to find a better medicine than Black-Draught. When I've had a cold and needed a laxative, I used Black-Draught. I use it for sour stomach, headache and indigestion, and it does the work.'

"I believe most ill we have are caused from inactive liver. We impose on nature by over-eating, and then the liver don't act. We get lazy and no-account. It is hard for us to do our work, and we'd get real sick if we didn't take something. The best remedy I have found yet is Black-Draught. It doesn't leave you constipated, and I feel better after taking a round of it."

Made from purely vegetable ingredients, Black-Draught acts in a natural way, and is free from the bad after-effects of so many mineral drugs.
